engaging with debates about lived religion pluralism and secularism this book presents an ethnographic study of committed young muslims and christians in the predominantly secular context of the netherlands daan beekers breaks with conventional frameworks that keep these groups apart by highlighting the common ground between revivalist minded protestant christians and sunni muslims based on in depth fieldwork young muslims and christians in a secular europe shows that these young adults embark on reflexive projects of cultivating personal faith that are rife with struggles setbacks and doubts beekers argues that this shared precarious condition of everyday religious pursuits is shaped by young believers active participation in today s high capitalist and largely secular society where they encounter other modes of imagining and living in the world yet he reveals that this close engagement with secular culture also fosters a reinvigorated religious commitment that demands constant care and nourishment written in a clear and accessible style this book reaches beyond longstanding divisions in the study of religion in europe it both provides rich insights into everyday religious lives and disrupts persistent binary oppositions between categories such as minorities and majorities migrants and natives and islam and the west if piety faith and conviction constitute one side of the religious coin then imperfection uncertainty and ambivalence constitute the other yet scholars tend to separate these two domains and place experiences of inadequacy in everyday religious life such as a wavering commitment religious negligence or weakness in faith outside the domain of religion proper straying from the straight path breaks with this tendency by examining how self perceived failure is in many cases part and parcel of religious practice and experience responding to the need for comparative approaches in the face of the largely separated fields of the anthropology of islam and christianity this volume gives full attention to moral failure as a constitutive and potentially energizing force in the religious lives of both muslims and christians in different parts of the world
